The Other Asian War

While most of the publicity has centered on Vietnam fighting because of American involvement there, another vicious war is being waged with North Vietnam's support.

It is in Laos.

Ameican sources estimate the combined forces of North Vietnamese regulars and Pathet Lao (Laos rebels) control about 40 per cent of the country and about 25 per cent of the population.

No American troops are fighting in Laos but the 60,000-man Laotian army is U.S.-equipped.

The North Vietnamese are interested in protecting the Ho Chi Minh trail to keep men and supplies flowing into South Vietnam. Observers also believe Ho and his colleagues want eventually to dominate all of what was French Indochina - Vietnam, Laos and

It is informative to look at the complexion of the Laotian fighting being done without American soldiers.

Communist guerrillas are being met head-on by Laotian guerrillas in many areas. Ground is given grudgingly. Local support prevents a deeply entrenched guerrilla force of invaders. They are forced to keep fighting to retain any

The government army is able to give attention to areas that need it without being spread so thin against the guerrillas as to be ineffective.

Loyal forces are fighting invaders. The fighting edge always is with the native troops.

The Laotian army has been forced to rely strictly on its ability and has improved steadily. It was a matter of do or die and the army came

The Laotians are not winning, but neither are they losing.

Win, lose or draw, it will have been their fight and it will prove the world did not stop just because the United States refused to send soldiers into the fray.

That Lake Erie Bridge

We are reassured to read that Ohio Gov. Rhodes is still talking about that Lake Erie bridge.

This is the kind of project that starts with nothing behind it but the inexorable logic of geography, like the Sault St. Marie canal that opened Lake Superior to Great Lakes shipping, the Welland Canal that opened Lake Ontario, or the St. Lawrence Seaway that opened all the Great Lakes to ocean shipping.

It's as geographically logical as the peninsula that connects the Buffalo, N.Y., area to the Hamilton-Toronto area. If land traffic did not have this natural "bridge" between two industrially important areas, there would have to be a man-made bridge.

The Lake Erie bridge would be no unusual challenge to bridge engineers.

It would not be an unusual challenge to financial management. Tolls from truckers and tourists should be able to carry the project.

At this moment it is a challenge only to people who instinctively fight every new idea. We honestly believe if Gov. Rhodes had started off by predicting dolorously that a Lake Erie bridge never would be built the thing might be under construction by this time.

The CIA's Choice

The FBI years ago thoroughly infiltrated the American Communist party and, through the information and exposure which followed, was the major factor in reducing the party to a

But suppose the FBI had not infiltrated after all, the party represented itself as a political grouping - and today communism here had a far greater membership and was considered a menace to national security

The FBI would have been publicly condemned -and by now might have been replaced by some new agency - for it is responsible for obtaining information essential to the nation's domestic interests.

The FBI's job is in this country. It's opposite number, the Central Intelligence Agency, has the same responsibility as the FBI but its field is the world outside the United States.

Now it is being criticized for subsidizing the National Student Association, the oldest and largest student organization in the United States, with perhaps as much as $3 million between 1962 and 1965.

EUGENE GROVES, NSA president, said the CIA funds had been used to help finance the group's international activities, including sending student representatives to student congresses abroad and funding student exchange pro-

Groves said. "The relationship apparently originated because the CIA believed that a strong American national union of students acting internationally was in the national interest."

This was said to be the CIAs main purpose throughout - to combat Communist - financed youth organizations which, like NSA and similar Western groups - were not publicly sponsored by government and thus appeared to be 'stu-

Some of the CIA money went as undercover payments to past NSA officials in yearly sums of $500 to $2,500. But the NSA has not severed connections with the CIA.

It is going to be done eventually because it's logical. That's the size of it.

The only cuestion is whether it will be done

Giving Their All

Defense Department figures show a high proportion of Negro combat deaths in Vietnam.

Negroes accounted for nearly 18 per cent of last year's combat deaths, though they made up only 11 per cent of all U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Pentagon spokesmen say Negroes make up nearly 25 per cent of some of the airborne combat units.

They attribute this to a high re-enlistment rate, educational deficiencies limiting the type of other armed service jobs open to them and willingness to volunteer for elite combat units.

Regardless, of the reasons, the fact remains that a high percentage of Negroes are dying for their country.

They are carrying on a proud tradition that originated when Crispus Attucks, a Negro, was one of the first three men to be cut down by British bullets in the Boston Massacre March 5, 1770, as pressure was building for the American

By James Marlow

Officials of the CIA, the most secretive government agency, are saying nothing. But a former CIA director, Allen W. Dulles, who knew all about the arrangement, said, "We obtained what we wanted" in return for payments to

He said NSA representation at international student conferences threw a damper on Communist influence at such meetings.

Nevertheless, CIA is being criticized for infiltrating the campus. President Johnson has instructed some government officials to form a policy that would prevent the CIA or any other government agency from endangering the integrity and independence of American educational

But - the CIA was confronted with the possibility that Communist youth organizations might dominate in the international student field.

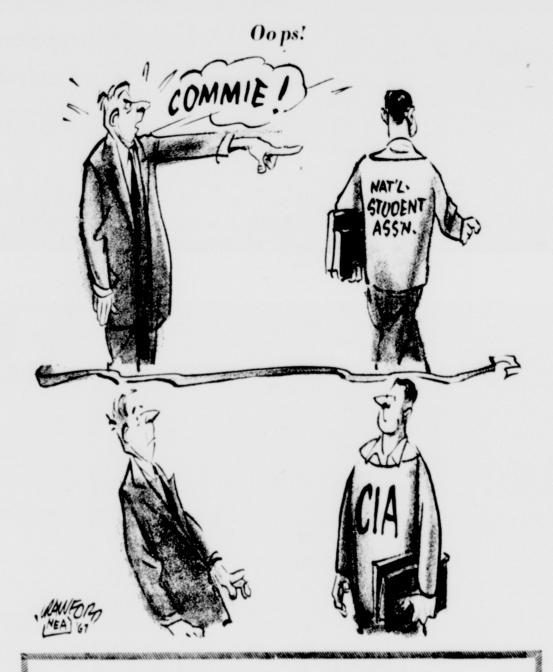

SO IT HAD to make a choice: Do what it did, try to achieve the same result in some other way, or do nothing, although it is busy all over the world in a thousand ways to prevent, reduce or eliminate Communist control

This raises a question: If you were in charge of the CIA, what would you have done? One thing is sure: If the Communists did get control of the international student groups, and if this was due to the failure of the CIA to do anything. and if this fact became known, the CIA would be roundly condemned here at home.

Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo, defended the CIA against what he termed "short - sighted criticism." He told the Senate, "We are trying to survive in a jungle world in which no holds are barred on the part of those with whom we must

The state of Texas is larger than England, France and West Germany combined. However, Texas would fit into the state of Alaska twice, with more than 50,000 square miles left over.

Cover Stories

By Art Buchwald

The news that the CIA had been supplying undercover funds to the National Student Association has caused another furor in Educational circles. The association, with 300 chapters on campuses throughout the country, may have been comprised by accepting money from the Central Intelligence Agency. Yet it's hard to believe that the CIA would do anything illegal or immoral to achieve its goals. I'm sure the intelligence people have a good cover Art Buchwald story to explain their infiltration of the student organization, and when they present it we'll all be satisfied they did nothing wrong.

As a matter of fact, there are several cover stories explaining the CIA's involvement with the NSA making the rounds at this very moment. And, while it is impossible to separate fact from fiction, all of them make

One is that while the NSA was a cover for the Ford Foundation. The Ford Foundation has to dispense millions and millions of dollars a year, and sometimes it prefers to do it without publicity. So ft gives the money to the CIA, which is always on the lookout for worthy causes.

But the CIA is in a terrible spot because if it denies it gave funds to the National Student Association to subvert it, then it will have to admit it gave the money at the request of the Ford Foundation, and everyone will start asking, "What the hell is the Ford Foundation messing around in Education for?'

ANOTHER COVER story making the rounds of Washington it that the CIA has been terribly worried about the educational situation in California and would like to do something to help the colleges out during the present crisis

If the CIA gave the funds directly to Gov. Reagan, other states would demand similar subsidies to get them through financial crises. Therefore, the CIA decided to use the National Student Association as a means of slipping the dough to Cailfornia without anybody finding out about it.

It has been no coincidence that many students from Berkeley have been seen leaving CIA headquarters at Langley with large satchels of cash. When questioned about the satchels, the students always replied, "We're going to use it to buy pot." But everyone now knows the money was going directly to the Board of Regents to improve the California school system.

There is another story circulating that the CIA people had no intention of supporting the National Students Association. They thought the initials NSA stood for the National Security Agency. When the CIA top dogs discovered they were giving money to the wrong organization, they had to cover up their mistake by pretending they had the National Student Association in mind all the SOMEONE SAID the National Student Association officers also had made a grievous mistake, because they thought the initials CIA stood for Committee for Indigent Alumni. When the board discovered its error, it was too late to explain to its members where all the money was coming from, so they decided not to talk about it either.

The CIA has been reluctant to discuss the matter, but I did manage to corner a high official in a restaurant who gave me the best explanation for the whole affair I've heard so far.

"Why did the CIA get involved with the National Student Association?" I asked him. "Because," he replied, "it was there."

CIA Student Plan Defended

The United States is at war with Communist enemies

The gathering of intelligence is an important factor in the conflicts arising throughout the world. Yet when Central Intelligence Agency endeavors to collect information by enlisting the cooperation of American student organizations, a hullabaloo is raised and members of Congress talk about derogatory investigations that could frustrate America's informationgathering in foreign countries. Both the Soviets and the Red Chinese have infiltrated student organizations in the United States, formenting discord and stating demonstrations to help turn public opinion against the American government. CIA has by no means engaged in any such activities abroad, but has merely sought the cooperation of U.S. students visiting foreign lands to help the government keep abreast of what is going on. THE CIA did not ask any student to partici-

but merely to let the government know what was happening in student circles which could affect the United States. This is important because of the international scope of the student associations which reach into virtually every part of Europe, Asia, Africa

pate in subversive activities of any sort abroad and Latin America. Again and again, the United States has been confronted by "student demonstrations" hostile to American officials, including ambassadors and ministers. To find out how these activities are organized is important so steps can be taken to anticipate and to thwart such moves. The Federal Bureau of Investigation operates within the United States, while the CIA carries on its work in foreign countries.

The FBI has repeatedly told members of Congress about the activities of students inside this country who are members of the Communist party or are affiliated with groups financed by the Soviet government.

If there are to be investigations in Congress of what the CIA has done to gather information, it would be logical to expect a thorough inquiry also into the leadership and financing of certain student groups within the United States.

Some have been in contact with members of Congress and have submitted demands that are raally in the interest of Communist governments The CIA has had nothing to do with operations of student organizations within the United States. Whatever financial help it has given has been to officers of student associations in charge of matters related to trips of U.S. students abroad, particularly to Communist coun-

MANY American businessmen and other travelers have been interviewed by the CIA

after their return from Communist lands. There is no impropriety in giving one's own government any information that might be useful to it in the war against Communism. The FBI has plenty of evidence of the activities of the Soviet government inside the United States among student organizations. A comprehensive inquiry into the "student demonstrations" in recent months would expose to public view what the United States is un against in foreign lands, as well as inside America. It is amazing to find some members of Congress so unfamiliar with the perplexing problems of gathering intelligence in other countries that they are preparing to handicap the U.S. government in its effort to learn what is being done to damage American interests throughout the world.

A Newell man was cited by police after a traffic mishap early Sunday on E. 3rd St. at College St., one of four collisions investigated here over the William G. Jackson, 52, of the Newell Rd. was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance as the result of a mishap in which his 1956 model auto hit the rear of a halted 1962 sedan driven by Kenneth Simmen, 17, of Oakmont, officers said.

Simmen told police he had halted to make a left turn into a restaurant when his auto was struck from the rear about 12:23 a. m. Jackson said he did not see Simmen's car in time to avoid a collision. Patrolman L. E. Richard investigated.

A collision on Anderson Blvd. at Park Way Sunday at 7:11 p.m. involved a 1962 sedan driven by Bernard G. Locke Jr., 18. of 747 Avondale St. and a 1957 sedan operated by Ralph W. Sheets, also 18, of N. Surry Ln., officers said.

Patrolman W. F. Copestick, who investigated, said the drivers gave conflicting versions of the crash. Locke said Sheets was attempting to pass on a curve and hit the Locke car. Sheets reported Locke cut through the parking lot of a tavern at the intersection and then out the other side, scraping the side of the Sheets car.

As you stir the cup of egg dry. whites with a fork, you will find there will be a thick part that the yellow will not mix with. Fine

This part will end up as the egg white when it is scrambled. The part that mixes with the coloring will turn out yellow.

Pour it into your skillet and I did find that you need lots of salt and pepper on this. Also, you could top it with hamburger relish and it was out of this world, no matter what time of the day you ate it.

Also, if you put it in a blender and added some baking powder. it would turn out all the same color, but it would be fluffier like an omelet. If you like eggs all the same color, you may like this method.

But it leads you to believe that you are finally eating a scrambled egg with a yolk.

Liquor Sales Up In Pennsylvania. Down In Midland

Liquor and wine sales at the Pennsylvania Liquor Store in Midland declined from 1965 the annual report of the state Liquor Control Board has revealed. Sales in 1966 amounted to $346,188, compared to $360,003 during the previous year. The total last year included $182,199 retail, $151,563 to licensees and $11.368 cases in retail sales Beaver County sales totaled $5,280,306, up from the $5,157, 463 of 1965, the report showed State sales last year amount ed to $367 million, an increase over the $348 million of the previous year agreed to accept 10 per cent, but council's police committee could not get the remainder of the legislators to agree.

Last Monday, council split 3-3 on a vote for a $2-a-month raise for each of the five policemen. A motion to reduce the force to four men and give a 10 per cent increase did not receive a second.

One councilman suggested reducing the force to four, raising the rest $50 a month and hiring a Meter Maid at $200 a month.

The battle of Bull Run, or Manassas, was the first major cenflict in the Civil War.

QUESTION: What were castles like?

ANSWER: Castles resulted from conditions in medieval times when central governments were too weak to give protection to their people. The feudal lords and barons took their retainers, including knights and fighting men as well as various servants and workers, under their protection and built castles which were something like very small walled towns. Outside, the castle was ringed with farms worked by peasants who were also the lord's retainers. In times of danger, the peasants joined the others inside the castle walls. For greater protection, a mote or canal often surrounded a castle. Across the mote was a draw bridge which could be opened or closed. The heavy walls had "battlements" from which "merlons" stood up to shelter fighters while they shot arrows and threw stones and spears on an attacking enemy below. We show the plan of a typical castle. The "donjon" or "keep" was the general living place, with retainers often housed on the ground level, while the lord's quarters were above.
